The losses of the Italian opera season in New York thus far have been nearly ten thousand dollars. Maretzek's actual expenses are $900 a night.

The Philadelphia North American says there are more people out of employment there now than there were in the hard times of 1867.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says the old and new express companies are "making up," and a new and greater consolidation and monopoly are threatened.

A case of courtship of forty-five years standing is reported at East Lynn, Mass. A gentleman has paid his visits on each alternate Sunday evening.

A citizen of Prince Edward's Island is announced to be in Boston, with a view of obtaining subscribers to a new paper he intends publishing in the former place, which shall advocate the annexation of that island to the United States, or, at least, recommend the establishment of better commercial relations with this country.

A woman in France has sold her hair fifteen times since her childhood. It grows twelve inches every year, and has yielded a profit to her of $400. A Paris correspondent says the French dealers in hair sell 140,000 pounds per annum, at a value of $15,000,000, and the price has advanced fifty per cent in six years because of the demand.

Newman Hall said in New York, the other night, that he had been in this country about seven weeks, and had seen only four drunken persons on the streets. In London he would have seen that number in one night. There are seventy drinking shops in his bakery; $70,000,000 are spent annually for drink, and $50,000,000 of it by the poor.

Charles Wesley, of Vineyard Point, Ulster county, New York, died April 10, 1797, of fright, and, therefore, intrusted his treasure, three thousand six hundred dollars, to a bank of earth in his yard. The deposit had been buried only a few days, when he went to look after it. He found that the bank had been robbed of all its assets.

The accounts from Kansas give some idea of the scenes that will be witnessed at elections when female suffrage is established. To read of female orators going from poll to poll in each of the wards in Leavenworth, and delivering harangues to the enthusiastic voters at the polling places—to hear of the "Hutchinson family" marching round the election precincts singing songs in the electors in favor of their political principles—may strike us at first as rather startling incidents, but they are the shadows of coming events.

Certain parties, says a special dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer, dissatisfied in not securing the President's aid to advance their purposes, are making strenuous efforts to prove that Johnson broke faith with the New York Democracy after making overtures to them. It is charged that some weeks since, Cassidy, of New York, addressed a letter to a gentleman of Washington, stating that the New York Democratic Convention proposed to pass a resolution repudiating Johnson and his administration, and that this reached the President. It further said that the President immediately dispatched a distinguished Missourian and an ex-member of Congress from Tennessee, to confer with Seymour, Hoffman and others, with a view to arrest the passage of the resolution, and arrange other important matters. The resolution was stricken out, and in return it was understood Seward was to retire from the Cabinet, and New York be represented thereby by John J. Cisco as Secretary of the Treasury.

DRAMATIC RESUME.

Horace Greeley, in a letter to the Little Corporal, the Chicago juvenile, advises boys as follows: "I say, emphatically, to every youth who values his own peace of mind and self-respect, 'Choose some pursuit wherein your livelihood will in no considerable degree be dependent on other men's good opinion.'"

General Howard has left Washington, by special order of General Grant, on a tour of inspection through Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Kansas. The object in the latter State is to establish schools for colored people. He expects to be at the meeting of the Army of the Tennessee, at St. Louis, on the 13th.

The boilers in the forge portion of the rolling mill of Reese, Graff & Dull, in Pitt township, near the city limits of Pittsburg, exploded with a terrible crash about noon Friday, scattering death and destruction in every direction; and even up to a late hour in the afternoon the confusion was so great as to render it almost impossible to ascertain correct details of the terrible affair. Sixty men were employed in that portion of the building in which the explosion occurred, and out of this number it is supposed at least twenty were killed and fifteen to twenty seriously wounded. The loss entailed will amount to several thousand dollars.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, November 8.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Huntington.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate recommended the rejection of the House bill in reference to criminal proceedings before Justices of the Peace, on the ground of its conflict with the constitution of the State.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Mr. Lyle: Whereas, it is of the greatest importance to a State to preserve and maintain its credit sound and safe, and to maintain inviolate its obligations and not to incur a debt which may be beyond the ability of it to perform and fulfil those already incurred. Therefore in order to inspire confidence in the faith, honor and credit of the State, and give to the world assurance that Tennessee will perform all her obligations in good faith, and that this administration will so conduct the affairs of the State as to meet these and all pledges made by the State, be it

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, That it is the policy and purpose of this Legislature to inaugurate no new enterprise, and enact no new laws which will involve the expenditure of the money of the State, necessitating increase of taxation to carry forward such enterprise; that this Legislature will not appropriate the money of the State for any purpose except to sustain and complete enterprises already commenced, and to render secure and valuable and profitable the means already expended by the State, and in sustaining the established indebtedness of the State. The resolution was adopted.

Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Stone: A bill to protect physicians, exempting books and medicines to the amount of three hundred dollars, from execution. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Williams: A resolution requiring the Committee on the Penitentiary to inquire into the financial management of that institution, and ascertain if it cannot be made self-sustaining. Passed.

By Mr. Turner: A bill making it a misdemeanor for any person to kill any deer between the months of March and October. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

House bill No. 101: To secure the removal of Rebels from office; authorizing the Governor to declare vacant after the first Saturday of March, 1868, all offices held by disfranchised persons, and to issue writs of election to fill said vacancies. The Judiciary Committee recommended the rejection of the bill.

This point was argued at considerable length.

After some further discussion, Mr. Williams' motion prevailed, and the bill was referred to a special committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Williams, Stone, Bosson, Percival and Myers.

Adjourned until two p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

House bill No. 109: Granting a stay of two years on all executions except for payment of taxes. Postponed until a week from next Tuesday.

House bill No. 110: To amend the revenue laws of the State. The bill imposes a tax of two per cent. on the gross receipts of insurance companies, and a tax of two per cent. on all income derived from government securities not otherwise taxed. Referred to the Committee on finance.

House bill No. 118: To repeal that section of the Code which prohibits railroads from employing colored engineers. Passed second reading.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES: By the first section of an act passed by the last Legislature, chapter 94, is the public act, it is declared that any one or more, or all of the servants, agents, commissioners, or other officers of the State Penitentiary, shall be subject to removal by resolution of the General Assembly.

I am informed that the Commissioners of the penitentiary unanimously elected Thomas B. McElwee, Warden of said institution, and have him in order, indorsed by me, to J. S. Hull, the incumbent of that office, to surrender the keys to Mr. McElwee. Mr. Hull refuses to surrender possession, and last night, I am informed, that one of the worst convicts escaped without the breaking of a bolt or bar. I recommend the removal of J. S. Hull, in compliance with the aforesaid provision of section one, chapter thirty-four, act of 1866-1867.

The Commissioners have lost all confidence in the integrity of Mr. Hull, and the lessee report to me that they feel insecure. In view of these important issues involved, I ask your immediate consideration of the subject of this message.

W. G. BROWNLOW.

Whereas, The Hon. Thomas Barry, Chancellor of the district composed of Sumner, Macon, Jackson, Robertson, Montgomery and Stewart counties, and Judge of the 6th Court of Last Resort of Sumner county, has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors in his office as Chancellor and Judge, and has openly and unmasked open opposition to the laws of the State, and has denounced the Legislature openly as an illegal body usurping the power of a General Assembly; and,

Whereas, He, the said Barry, has been guilty of other and flagrant conduct in derogation of his said office, bringing deep disgrace upon the Judiciary of the State of Tennessee; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the General Representatives be appointed to investigate the conduct of said Barry as Councellor and Judge, and be vested to send for persons and papers, and all such other evidence as they may deem necessary, and in case they shall be warranted thereby in so doing, shall order articles of impeachment against the said Barry, and submit the same to this body.

The resolution was passed.

House adjourned until nine a.m. Monday.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A gentleman about to travel on a French railroad had at the time of entering the car an unlighted cigar in his mouth. Observing that there was a lady in the compartment, he was about to replace the cigar in his case; when lo! from the lady's foot there rose a big dog, in a threatening attitude. At the same time the lady snatched the cigar from the gentleman's mouth and threw it out of the window, with the remark: "I dislike smokers, they make me ill." The gentleman, with a polite bow, rejoined: "I do not like dogs, they annoy me." Then calling the animal by the back of the neck, he pitched him after the cigar.

Advices from a member of the committee engaged in the examination of the election cases in Kentucky represents the investigation as virtually abandoned. The Congressmen, without an exception, proved their loyalty to the satisfaction of every member of the committee. The evidence again it there was so weak, and that in their favor so overwhelming in point of respectability and weight, that the committee will report in favor of the admission of the members. So says a Washington correspondent.

A curious meteorological phenomenon was recently observed in Georgia. It is reported that a heavy cloud passed over Macon, in an otherwise clear sky, in such a rate that from its first appearance on the eastern horizon to its disappearance in the northwest was not more than three minutes. It was densely black, except at the edges, which were lighted by the moon.

There will be no impeachment, says the Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican, unless Stevens and Butler can carry their scheme of removal before trial, and that is out of the question. A long trial before the Senate, with no certainty that it will end in conviction and removal, is what the Republicans in Congress do not want, and will not have.

TUESDAY : : : : : : NOVEMBER 12, 1867

A FEW days since we adverted to the passage of a bill in the State House of Representatives, which made it a finable offense for common carriers to discriminate in the distribution of their passengers against race or color. It will be remembered that in March last the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed a law which provided that there should be no discrimination between passengers upon railway trains on account of color. A case which originated previously to the passage of that law has been recently decided by the Supreme Court, in session at Pittsburg. The decision was rendered by a Republican Judge, three others concurring and one dissenting; and was to the effect that, before the passage of the law, it was both right and proper for railway companies to make such arrangements for the distribution of their passengers as were suitable to all, and without discomfort to any. The learned Judge (AGNEW) placed the right of the carrier to separate his passengers upon two grounds—his right of private property in the means of conveyance, and the public interest. He held that the carrier performed his contract with the passenger when he conveyed him safely and comfortably—according to the common standard—from the beginning to the end of his journey. His remarks in respect to passengers of different colors are sound and sensible, and we take pleasure in copying this branch of the decision: "The right to separate being clear in proper cases, and it being the subject of sound regulation, the question remaining to be considered whether there is such a difference between the white and black races within this State, resulting from nature, law and custom, as makes it a reasonable ground of separation. The question is one of difference, not of superiority or inferiority. Why the Creator made one black and the other white, we know not; but the fact is apparent, and the races distinct, each producing its own kind, following the peculiar law of its constitution. Conceding equality, with natures as perfect and rights as sacred, yet God has made them dissimilar, with those natural instincts and feelings which He always imparts to His creatures when He intends that they shall not overstep the natural boundaries He has assigned to them. The natural law which forbids their intermarriage, and that of social races, is as clearly Divine as that which imparted to them different natures. The tendency of intimate social intercourse is to amalgamation, which leads to a corruption contrary to the law of races. The separation of white and black races upon the surface of the globe is a fact equally apparent. Why this is so, it is not necessary to speculate, but the fact of a distribution of men by race and color is as visible in the providential arrangement of the earth as that of heat and cold. The natural separation of the races is therefore an undeniable fact, and all social organizations which lead to their amalgamation are repugnant to the law of nature. From social amalgamation it is but a step to illicit intercourse, and but another to intermarriage. But to assert separateness is not to declare inferiority in either—it is not to declare one a slave and the other a freeman; that would be to draw the illogical sequence of inferiority from difference only. It is simply to say that, following the order of Divine Providence, human authority ought not to compel these widely separated races to intermix. The right of such to be free from social contact is as clear as to be free from intermarriage. The former may be less repulsive as a condition, but not less entitled to protection as a right. When, therefore, we declare a right to maintain separate relations, as far as reasonably practicable, but in a spirit of kindness and charity, and with due regard to equality of rights, it is not prejudice, nor caste, nor injustice of any kind, but simply to suffer men to follow the law of races, established by the Creator himself, and not to compel them to intermix contrary to their interests.

It is the unpleasantest of duties to criticise the action of those people among whom we have spent the best days of our existence; and among whom naught but an uncommon and extraordinary occasion would allow us to indulge in thoughts reprehensible really to it mean... our gaze, so much intuitively humiliated ourselves, is our feelings for our people, than the attendance upon the great races yesterday. Gentlemen from the extreme and opposite points of the compass vied with each other in bringing here the purest blooded stock in the country. To do this costs money; and in doing it, thousands of dollars are and will be expended for our benefit. We speak, of course, in an aggregate and general sense. Stakes which merchants, bankers and hotel keepers, some three months ago subscribed to, have been forfeited, and the money now will have to be paid by the officers of the Association, a number of whom have really no direct interest in Memphis. It is wrong—it is absolute injustice that these gentlemen should suffer; and they are gentlemen; not whatare termed "sporting men," but large-minded, generous souls, who thought these races would materially help our city—would draw attention to it, and make it the lead and source of Northern investments. The influence of such things are not properly appreciated by us. The best stables, or among the best stables, of this continent are here. Everything on the course is conducted in accordance with the rules which have been in vogue in civilized England for nearly a century. There is not a lady or a child in this section who cannot attend and enjoy the races without even a remote danger of feeling that those whom they meet in the elegant apartments set aside for them, are ladies and gentlemen. Let us have a change. Let us show that we are capable of discriminating between what is right and what is wrong; and if the former prevails, let us not hesitate to support it. The excitement of a good race is more enjoyable in a lady than gentleman, and, our word for it, any lady can attend without fear of coming in contact with the least which would cause offense. Before closing we should say that there are honorable exceptions to what, unfortunately, appears to be a rule among us. In speaking of hotel keepers, Colonel COCKRELL, of the Gayoso, has maintained his wonted reputation. Three months ago he subscribed to the Hotel stake, and it must be said, to his credit, that when called upon, he responded like the gentleman which he has proved himself to be ever since his first appearance in commercial life here.

THE personification of tyranny, Major General HAYNAU GESSLER ORD, arrested and incarcerated, a few days since, General WM. H. MCCARDLE, of the Vicksburg Times, in a filthy prison cell seven by three feet, for, as he (ORD) says, being an obstacle in the way of reconstruction, and the author of certain incendiary and inflamatory articles which might cause or prompt insurrectionary steps to be taken by the unreconstructed rebels in that great and mighty military district. The total absurdity and unpardonable ignorance displayed by this Major General in arresting General MCCARDLE—even supposing the causes, which came from General GILLEN'S headquarter's, to be true—are too palpably plain to require comment. But rumor says (and in this case does not lie) that General ORD, fearing to resent certain personal remarks which appeared in the Times, and which were certainly produced by General MCCARDLE'S pen, has taken advantage of his military power to revenge himself. General MCCARDLE bears his unmerited and infamous imprisonment as none but a gallant, chivalrous and magnanimous Southern soldier could. His friends are doing everything in their power to effect an early release for him. Times are very dull in Vicksburg, but its citizens believe that the struggling rays of liberty, which are now visible and cheering the depressing spirits of their countrymen, will be supplanted by a full, bright and glorious light, which, in days of yore, blessed and made happy our desolate and blood-stained land. Our remarks on this subject are based upon a telegram, published by us Sunday morning. It announces only the fact of arrest and imprisonment; and it is thus why we advert to the subject—in terms so general. In a few days at the farthest, we will then be placed in possession of the details of the matter, and consequently will be enabled to refer to it more fully.

ON the fourth page of the AVALANCHE, this morning, we publish the opinions upon the late elections, of EX-Senator WADE, of Ohio. It is in the conversational style, and consequently, being free, and the language used proving its unreservedness, is valuable, inasmuch as it gives the people of the country an opportunity to judge fairly of the policy of those extremists who have made it the study of the past five years of their political existence to oppress the Southern people through legislation infamous in its conception, and diabolical in its results. When this class of politicians were indorsed by immense Radical majorities, influenced mainly by the issues of the war, they presumed that any political length might be resorted to, and that any schemes or measures proposed by them would receive unequivocal approbation. The results of the October and November elections plainly demonstrate their lack of judgment, want of statesmanship, and the demagoguery upon which the reins of power have been pulled for so long a time. The rebuke administered by popular opinion has not been without its effects, and it is for this reason that BEN. WADE this morning occupies so much valuable space in our columns.

OUR contemporary, the Carroll Record, of the 3d inst., contains some very timely and appropriate remarks, under the heading, "Settle with your Merchants—A Word to the Planters." It is urged that there is "no obligation more binding than that of the planter to his commission merchant, who came to his relief in time of need, and furnished the means to commence life anew," and the planters are counseled to send on their crops at as early a day as possible, in order to relieve both themselves and the merchants from the pressure of outstanding debts. In cautioning the planters against keeping back their crops in the vain expectation of higher prices, it says: "It is true you have failed to make the crops this year you hoped to make, and cotton is much lower than you expected; but that is a misfortune for which the merchant is not accountable, and which is very likely visited upon you by a wise Providence for your future good."

EDITORS AVALANCHE: As I observe you continue to honor the names and memory of our Confederate dead, in each Sunday's issue, I should like to pay a passing tribute to one gallant spirit who but recently passed from our midst. I refer to Colonel Edward E. Porter. It is with feelings of profound sorrow that we utter those sad words, "He is no more." Oh! it was a bright, genial spirit that the Angel of Death summoned away on that sad night of October. We miss that ever cheerful smile, the kindly greeting, the warm grasp of a true friend, and earth seems less attractive. Possessed, in an eminent degree, those qualities of mind and heart that always made him a welcome guest. As a soldier in the late cause, many will bear testimony to his courage and devotion to principle. Early in the contest he received a commission from President DAVIS, to raise an independent company known as Porter's Partisans. With this command he repaired to Fort Pillow, continuing there and at Columbus until the evacuation of those places, when his company was regularly mustered into the Confederate service in this department. He was connected with General Forrest's command at the time of the surrender. Those war-worn veterans will ever remember, with tearful emotions, his soul-stirring address delivered on that sad occasion. Men who had braved dangers and death in many hard fought battles, stood with uncovered heads, and wept like children, as he recounted their toil, privations and sufferings, and urged them to return peaceful as their homes, and to show themselves true men and patriots in the future as they had ever done in the past. This he did himself. Returning to the home of his childhood in our midst, around which clustered the sacred associations of early youth, with its bright golden dreams of future promise; then the ripening into the vigor of manhood, when he in a measure realized the dreams of youth; for he labored in and for the Church of Christ. Many will remember his eloquent and forcible appeals in behalf of Christianity, and the religion of that Master whom he loved and served, though like Peter, sometimes following afar off. His style was peculiarly forcible; yet embellished with beautiful imagery calculated to fix the attention, and at the same time he forced conviction of truth by the power and eloquence of his argument.

We hope and believe, that souls were saved through his instrumentality, who will sparkle as stars in his crown of rejoicing.

His loss is deeply felt by a devoted wife and afflicted father and mother, who mourns an only son; and by a large circle of friends, to whom his presence always lent a charm.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Our city patrons are requested not to pay any one for subscriptions to the AVALANCHE without a certificate from the office authorizing them to collect.

GALLAWAY, REED & CLUSKEY.

THE NICHOLSON.—The laying of the Nicholson pavement on Main street has been temporarily suspended for want of lumber. The work on the grading is, however, being rapidly pushed forward.

Steamer Robert E. Lee, having been unavoidably detained, will leave this evening promptly at four o'clock. Parties can secure staterooms, and get all necessary information, by applying to Captain S. H. Shock, Overton Hotel.

ROSE HAMBLETON.—The Rose Hambleton, receiving at the wharf for all points to Jacksonport, will take freight to the Ark at 50c. per hundred; to Argenta at 50c. per hundred, and to Jacksonport at 75c. per hundred.

BUSINESS.—There was a perceptible improvement in business yesterday, and a livelier appearance presented on the streets notwithstanding the absence of so many at the races. The registers of the different hotels also show a considerable increase in travel. Before the end of the present week the absentees will have returned, and business assumed her wonted sway.

ARRIVALS.—The following distinguished persons arrived at the Gayoso House yesterday: General Gideon J. Pillow, Tennessee; Colonel J. C. Tappan, Arkansas; Colonel Sam. Tate, Tennessee; Colonel Paul Goodman, Mississippi; Colonel William Polk, New Orleans; Colonel H. C. Chambers, Mississippi; Colonel J. C. Dunt, St. Louis; G. J. Beagle, proprietor of the "Rock Cricek;" Captain Asa Hill, Memphis and Ohio railroad.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday afternoon, as Colonel McClure drove up in front of Geo. M. Greeley's store, on Main street, the top of his buggy became detached from the body by a sudden movement in turning, and fell off, tumbling Colonel McClure and his companion in the gutter. The horse took fright, and ran down Main street with the topless buggy, frightening other horses attached to vehicles, and, nearly upsetting a rockaway in which a lady was sitting. Fortunately, however, he was stopped before any further injury was done than that to the buggy at starting.

LAW COURT, James G. Pierce, Judge, met on yesterday pursuant to adjournment. Col. L. D. McKisick presented in an appropriate address the resolutions of the committee in reference to the death of the late Judge Thomas G. Smith. Several other members of the Bar responded to the resolutions. It was ordered that the resolutions presented by Col. McKisick be spread upon the records, and the Court adjourned over to-day out of respect to the memory of the late. The trial docket will be called, commencing at case number 695.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge, &c.—The case of Wm. Saunders—indictment for larceny—was taken up for trial on yesterday. The evidence against the prisoner (a little rockerel) was of a circumstantial character. The jury had not been able to agree at a late hour, and returned to Court to receive some instructions as to the law governing the case. A verdict of acquittal was generally expected. To-day the jail cases will continue to be called for trial.

RODDY ON THE DETECTIVE.—A man named Billy Russell was arrested yesterday for larceny, and was confined in the station house, but afterward allowed to go out in town, accompanied by a detective, to seek for bail. Both being of a convivial turn, the bail question drifted before the search was over. In fact, the detective got drunk and went to sleep, when the thief very quietly decamped, leaving the detective to account for him to Beaumont the best way he could.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—An affray occurred at a fair which took place in Overton Square, yesterday, in the classic regions of Scotland, on Saturday night, between two negroes known as Henry McDonald and Dumple" was still standing, but "Nanny Letcher" and "Magazine" were going by at a rapid gait, and goes on crutches, never to the fair with an Scotch proof of the freedom in the shape of a pistol, and one of the latter began flourishing his weapon to the dissatisfaction of colored brethren, who took it from him. On Sunday last the two were arraigned before Squire Taylor and another negro named Hunter, went out to the gate in front of the house, and alternating, "McDonald, you're a pilot" the party, when Taylor clutched the hand to the pistol, and the two struggled sometime for the weapon, which in the course of the scrimmage was discharged, leaving the pistol in McDonald's hand, which was no sooner released than he fired at a negro standing at a store through and he staggered toward the window, through which he attempted to push himself, but another shot, compelled him to cry for mercy, and Mr. Mullins pulling upon him to surrender, he did so, begging his life. The fleet type then seized him by the collar, and delivered him into the custody of the Sergeant of the night police at the Adams street station house. He gave his name as John Lewis, alias, and stated that his name from New Orleans. He is well known to the river police, who recognized him as an inveterate thief and loafer. Dr. Joe. B. Lynch was called to, and after a patient search for the bullet, was unable to find it. He was taken to the county hospital on Monday for treatment, after which he will be duly forwarded, upon conviction, to Nashville, where he should have been long ago.

PERSONAL.—General Gideon J. Pillow was in the city yesterday, stopping at the Gayoso House. He left on the evening train.

Mr. Mason Hide, clerk of the Municipal Court, is said to be very ill.

Quite a number of absentees from the city returned yesterday, on the afternoon train. Every train on the railroads leading to the city brings to the absent ones.

General Frank C. Armstrong has returned to the city.

Among the late arrivals at the Gayoso House we noticed Col. D. M. Leatherman.

Mr. J. G. Kiles, of the Oxford Eagle, was in the city yesterday, and left in the evening, via the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad.

Mayor Loaisa has returned from Nashville. He denies having endeavored to influence legislation to close the city saloons.

Mr. J. Whitaker, a gentleman well known in typographical circles, has returned, after an absence of some months in the North.

Major A. Wilson, of the firm of Wolcott, Smith & Co., who has been absent for several weeks, has returned.

Colonel Samuel Toole, who has been traveling in Georgia, Alabama, East and Middle Tennessee, returned yesterday evening, looking well. His numerous friends will be glad to welcome him again.

Mr. W. T. Dowd, of Mississippi, is in town and staying at the Worsham House.

We understand that the Hon. John Morrissey arrived in town last night, and will be at the races to-day.

A MAMMOTH ESTABLISHMENT.

Eastland, Lloyd & Gilbert—Grand Opening—Great Success.

The largest, most commodious and gorgeous establishment in the South, and perhaps the most princely in the United States, is the mammoth queensware house of Eastland, Lloyd & Gilbert, which opened yesterday at No. 321 Main street. The immense and increasing business of this firm having forced them to search for more commodious quarters, they have at great expense fitted up and opened as their new place, which is now unquestionably pronounced the great attraction and ornament of Memphis. The store rooms are one hundred and forty feet in depth by thirty-two feet in width, with four stories and an equally large cellar, all filled up in the most palatial style. Since the opening, the immense building has daily been continually thronged with admiring visitors, who are enthusiastic in their expressions of admiration of the design and workmanship, and the taste displayed in the arrangement of the magnificent wares, selected from the finest stocks in Europe and the East. Every thing that the heart could wish or the imagination picture of the beautiful and gorgeous is here displayed to the delight of ladies and gentlemen who constantly visit their splendid establishment and gaze upon its wealth of beauty for hours with undiminished interest. Mr. T. Cockrill, of the Gayoso house, made the first purchase yesterday, buying $617.81 worth of ware, and was astonished at the remarkably low prices. The firm having imported a large proportion of their stock direct, and are enabled thereby to offer superior inducements to customers. The firm consists of Messrs Williams H. Eastland, S. M. Lloyd and R. Gilbert. Mr. Eastland is a young man of long business experience, and of thorough scientific attainments, and as a gentleman is well known to every household as one of the most successful china and glassware merchants in the city. His qualifications and experience are well known to be of the highest order. Mr. Lewis R. Gilbert, the junior member of the firm, was born and raised in this city. He is a young gentleman of industry, education and of the finest business attainments. His popularity is perhaps as great as that of any young man in the city. The firm entire presents the best assurance of satisfaction to customers and the immense stock warrants the assertion that nothing will be sought there in vain.

COLONEL SCHOOTS.—Reports to the Commissioner shows the number of colored schools in the sub-district of Memphis, embracing the different counties of West Tennessee, to be twenty-two, of which sixteen are supported entirely by colored people, and the other six in part by them. The whole number of pupils is one thousand two hundred and seventy-seven. Two school houses are owned by freedmen and two are furnished by the Bureau. There are in all twenty-nine teachers—fifteen white and sixteen colored. The amount paid for tuition is nine hundred and seventy dollars. The number of Sabbath schools reported in the district is twenty-two, with one thousand two hundred and ninety-nine scholars. The day school at Mason's Depot has been discontinued for want of patronage.

SHIRTS.—A gentleman calling under the nomenclature of L. Mollie entered into trade in the clothing store, yesterday afternoon, to purchase a shirt. Having found one to suit him, he donned it and started off without leaving any money. The proprietor called after him to come back and settle. He, however, walked on, paying no attention to the mollified clothier, till he met a policeman, who escorted him to the Adams street station house.

MAGNIFICENT ESTABLISHMENT.—There is on exhibition at the confectionary store of B. Rocco, corner of Main and Adams streets, one of the most beautiful pieces of workmanship we have seen. A splendid palace, constructed in the most ingenius and elegant manner, of candy. It occupies the whole show window, and is one of the most beautiful and attractive features of that portion of the city. Large crowds are attracted to this fine confectionary establishment by this window, and when they enter the store they do not fail to find the largest and best selected stock of confectionaries in the city. Every thing in the confectionary line will be found, on Thursday, at very reasonable rates, and of the very best quality. Country merchants and citizens wishing to make purchases will find attractive features that will promptly and satisfactorily supply their wants than at B. Rocco's, corner of Main and Adams streets. RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, November 12.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

The weather yesterday was clear and cool, with no improvement to report in navigation. The shoalest point between this and Cairo is Fulton Prairie, where there is but five feet water in the channel with several boats aground on that neighborhood. The Ohio is falling at Cincinnati with six feet in the channel. At Louisville the river was rising on Sunday, with three feet and a half in the canal. At St. Louis on Saturday the river was low inshore. White, Arkansas and St. Francis rivers continue low with no change to report in the shoalest depth of water.

ARRIVALS.

IN PORT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The levee yesterday presented an active appearance, with an unusual number of boats in port receiving and discharging.

Travel on the river is increasing as well as freights. All we need is an improved navigation to make brisk business in river circles.

The Mississippi continues low, and does not appear to be affected by the slight swell in the Ohio.

Heavy rains prevailed in St. Louis and Louisville, on Saturday, which may cause a swell.

The channel between here and Cairo is cutting out very slowly, there being but five feet reported at Point Pleasant, which is the worst place between here and Cairo.

The GOVERNOR J. Hale will be down this morning, and leave Thursday evening for Cincinnati.

The Ohio river can boast of but three hot stoves on the bars in the lower Ohio, which will hardly let out the small fleet of stern wheelers that have left Cincinnati, bound south.

The Mollie Hambleton the old reliable St. Francis river packet, arrived at the wharf yesterday morning from Paducah, where she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and made so much so that she has ever been. She has also been repainted, and looks quite handsome in her new dress. Her machinery has been overhauled, and new improvements made that makes her a complete and serviceable packet. Her cabins have been refurnished in superior style. Captain Bowman, her popular and efficient commander, agreed no expense in making the Mollie a first class packet. She leaves to-day at five p.m. for Helena and Memphis, and will continue to make semi-weekly trips, leaving every Tuesday and Friday, until the river rises. The Mollie always great, and deservedly popular passenger and carrying accommodations. She is the only boat leaving to-day for the St. Francis river, and will no doubt be crowded. Mr. William Clark, a gentleman of high standing, and well known in the bends, is her chief purser. Mr. Clark is a gentleman and attentive gentleman, and will make all who travel with him comfortable and at home.

Captain Kinney has contracted at St. Louis for a new mountain boat. Captain Kinney says she will be the fastest boat that ever went to Benton. It will be a side-wheeler, larger than the Cora, 216 feet in length, 36 feet beam, 6 feet hold. It will be most beautiful and attractive in the interior accommodation of the officers, and on the upper deck only a pilot house—neither cabin nor texas. This boat will have three boilers and twenty-two inch cylinders, with six feet stroke. It will be of very light draught, and also very staunch. Captain Kinney has been overhauling the wharf at St. Louis, his nine-sixteenths in the steamer Lexington, at the rate of eighteen thousand dollars to one man. Captain Kinney says St. Louis, or Cairo, promptly and satisfactorily supply their wants than at B. Rocco's, corner of Main and Adams streets. Give him a call. tf

Wednesday night, taking passage for this place. When the boat was above Henderson, Cooper, in endeavoring to draw a bucket of water, fell overboard and was drowned. As soon as the alarm was given, the boat was stopped, and an effort made to save the drowning man, but a moment before they reached the spot the unfortunate man sank to rise no more.

The St. Louis Democrat of Saturday says:

Heavy rain yesterday afternoon. It is supposed these rains extended up the rivers a long distance, and will refresh them a few days. The boats laid up for October and November St. Paul saw their formerly flourishing business to points below are sufferers from detention. Tonnage for New Orleans continues in excess. The agents were among shippers in the morning, asking eighty cents per barrel for flour. We understand lots were shipped at seventy-five cents.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, November 12, 1867.

The financial market continues in rule close, with an increased demand for money. Discounts, instead of exhibiting any signs of relaxation, are growing more stringent. Collections are not being, to any extent, promptly met, and many merchants are still forced to borrow to meet their engagements. The banks are discounting very little paper, and those desiring accommodations are compelled to negotiate on the street. Rates of interest remain firm. First class paper rules at 10 @12 per cent; commercial at 15@18. Short loans command from 8@1 per cent. a month.

Gold opened in New York at 138¼, quoted at noon at 138. The market here was quiet, with few sales, and with premium rates at 137@137½. Silver remains steady, with little offering; buying at 128@130.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, November 12, 1867.

Receipts for the week past were quiet and steady. A fair local and shipping trade was doing in plantation supplies. Produce and provisions remain steady and unchanged, with receipts equal to the requirements. The streets presented an active appearance yesterday, with large receipts of cotton, though trade in the general markets exhibited very little improvement. The rivers remain low, with navigation partially suspended, which tends to check business in the bends.

COTTON—The market yesterday opened dull and heavy, with little offering and few inquiries throughout the day. Advices from New York were not encouraging. Transactions for the day were light, with sales of middling at 16@16½; low middlings, 15c; good middling, 16¾@17c. Holders were seemingly firm, and refused to unload unwilling to make concession. New York market reported dull and holders refused to concede. Liverpool market of the 8th was active, with uplands at 8½d; Orleans, 9d—sales of the day, 15,000 bales; to speculators, 5,000 bales; for export, 13,000; stock on hand, 571,000 bales of which 133,000 bales are American. At 5 p.m. yesterday the market was dull and quiet; uplands, at 8 1-16d and Orleans at 9 1-16d; sales, 15,000 bales. The market has closed quiet, with prices weak and unsettled. We quote:

Ordinary	13 @
Good Ordinary	14 @
Low Middling	15 @15½
Middling	16 @16½
Strict Middling	16¾@17
Good Middling	17 @

COTTON STATEMENT.

Receipts to-day	2,332 bales.
Exports to-day	1,766 "

CINCINNATI WEEKLY PROVISION MARKET.

CINCINNATI, November 9, 1867.

The Provision market has, during the week, remained in the same feverish condition as formerly reported. There is but a small trade, and no speculative feeling in old stuff. Money continues very tight, and rates of interest high, which tends to prevents a trade that might otherwise exist. I can give but nominal quotations for any article, owing to the almost total absence of sales. The receipts of the week have not been heavy, but the weather has been so unfavorable for killing that it would have been as well if all had remained in the country. Of all the killing thus far, it is doubtful if one-tenth the product can be cured: in fact, large portions of it have already gone to the tanks, and, with the light stock of Bacon now on hand, foreign buyers may find it difficult to supply their wants during the coming winter. The receipts of Hogs for the week were 9,918, and the prices range from $5 75 to 6 62½ gross, no change. Mess Pork is dull, being nearly out of market, yet; $8 is talked off. Green Meats, owing to the unfavorable weather, have been of slow sale. The rounds, Captain Pritchard presented the above pike to General Albert Pike.

Let our readers bear in mind that the Mollie Hambleton is the only boat leaving to-day for the St. Francis river.

Mr. Joseph Bissinger has the following telegram from the Hensely brought down from Omaha forty miners, who were aboard of the Galatte when she sunk. The report of the Imperial was that a no new has been cured in the case. No one is light, but the demand small, and, in the absence of sales, can only give nominal quotations: 16c and 16½c for shoulders, clear and rib sides.

The Louisville Courier has the following, regarding freights:

"Although the transportation of cotton from the South is equalized, or in the same ratio to Louisville as to other more Northern cities, via the Nashville railroad and its connections, it appears to be generally conceded that freights are too high, and that the managers of the Nashville road have not yet given the matter that careful and energetic attention which its importance demands. The new tariff of rates over the connecting lines between this port and Memphis are far more favorable to Memphis than any other point on the river. In fact, as we learn by letter, 'any shipper who has cotton to ship at Stanton or any point between Memphis and Brownsville has only to notify his agent to ship it cheaper by first sending it South to Memphis, and then back again from Memphis North.' Let this go, without further comment, if cotton is thus compelled to double on its tracks, no shipper might be induced when at Memphis to put it on a boat, and thence by the Illinois Central and the Atlantic and Great Western railroad to New York and cut us off."

Over 40,000,000 gallons of sorghum syrup are annually manufactured in the United States.

The report of the Department of Agriculture for October says the wheat crop of the country will exceed any harvest hitherto gathered, the amount being 220,000,000 to 225,000,000 bushels. Illinois gives an increase of 7 per cent; Minnesota, 8; Michigan, 13; Iowa, 15; Wisconsin, 16; Ohio 18; Canada, 20; Indiana, 8½; West Virginia, 8½; Kentucky, 38; Pennsylvania, 87.

The quality of wheat is greatly superior to that of last year. It is almost universally sound and dry, but in many localities there may be found some in stack to a half deficiency in weight, lacking in plumpness, or slightly shrivelled. Corn falls to No. 2, being less than twenty-eight pounds to the bushel. There is also a greater tendency to cloudiness and sore in preparing the grain for market. The aggregate will exceed two hundred and eighty million bushels, about three per cent. above last year.

Rye—In all the States excepting those on the Pacific coast there are twenty-one million bushels, an increase of four per cent.

Barley—Is deficient a half million bushels, or four per cent.

Other crops—Of beans and peas there is more than an average crop. Corn, in quality is uniformly good. The value of the entire crop, after deducting the deficiency in the Ohio valley, and allowing for the increase in nearly all the other States, will be greater than that of last year.

Potatoes—Crop poor. Tobacco crop less than last year. Sugar 20 per cent. greater than the crop of last year. Cotton, about 2,500,000 bales of 500 pounds each. Fattening cattle, a small deficiency in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. Farther West and Northwest the supply is quite as good as last year. In those States that report a reduced supply, there is also a reduction in condition. In all of the others the reports upon condition are quite favorable. Old wheat—a reduction as compared with last year. The stock of old wheat has not been reduced so low for many years, if ever.

MONDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES

The Military Organizations Disbanded.

The New Orleans Sheriff Case.

A Terrific Hurricane at St. Thomas.

Vessels Destroyed—Great Loss of Life.

Serious Charges Against an Officer.

NEW YORK, November 11.—A Washington special says: "General Emory has issued an order disbanding an irresponsible military company of blacks and whites, organized in this District. This has been done under the special instruction of General Grant."

Dr. J. W. Jones has been dispatched by Secretary McCulloch to take charge of the former United States mint at Charlotte, North Carolina. It will be used as an assay office hereafter.

The Times' special says General Sheridan, being assured of the good conduct of General Hayes in the fixture, telegraphed to General Grant, recommending a disapproval of his removal as Sheriff. Mr. Bullitt then declining, the appointment was restored.

The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday received offers from large houses in New York for the purchase of 30?40 bonds of large lots. He has decided not to accept them for the present, but it is quite certain that should he conclude to issue the twenty or twenty-one millions, which still remain unissued, under the act of March 8, 1864, he will have for them a prompt sale at full prices.

The Tribune says it is expected the President will, during the present week, appoint a successor to Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War. There is as yet no selection made, but it is believed the President desires bringing into his Cabinet one who is as near as may be to the type of the Conservative sentiment of the people as evinced in the late elections.

The Herald's special says Representative Ashley has prepared, and will introduce on the first of the session, a bill to prevent the present Ohio Legislature from redistricting the State, so as to give the Congressional Districts to the Democrats, in the election next year.

NEW YORK, November 11.—By an arrival from St. Thomas we have particulars of a great hurricane, which lasted about four hours, tearing up trees, lifting houses from the foundations and dashing them to pieces. Ships, steamers, and small vessels were dashed together and sunk. None of the crews were lost. The hands on land are homeless and suffering. The excitement is very great. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but it must be immense. On the morning of the 20th of October, there being indications of a storm, the passengers of the steamer Conway did not feel safe to go to sea in her and wished to be transferred to the Rhone, a new steamer of the line, where they might consider themselves safe in case of a storm. They were accordingly transferred, and both vessels put to sea, but during the storm the Rhone struck on Pet or Virgin Rock, her boiler exploded, and all was lost with the exception of twelve or fifteen. The Conway was thrown on Toronto Island, and all hands were saved. Nothing definite has been heard from the other islands. Report says the town on Toronto Island was destroyed, and a number of lives lost. The steamer Columbian came in about eleven o'clock, and at two o'clock was sunk, and six persons lost. Her cargo was valued at from one to two million dollars. The track of the hurricane seems to have been narrow, as the Miramon, from Rio, and the North American, from New York, arrived the day after, neither having experienced more than a stiff breeze.

RICHMOND, November 11.—John A. Gillmore yesterday deposited with General Schofield the charges and specifications against Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Rose, for misconduct in superintending the late election in Richmond. First—Conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. Second—Drunkenness on duty. Third—Disobedience of orders. Fourth—Violation of the ninety-ninth article of war. The names of upward of one hundred citizens have been sent up as witnesses. An investigation of the charges and specifications will shortly take place, though it is not thought a court martial will be ordered.

An affray occurred in Richmond this morning between Wash. Berry and Jesse White, in which the latter was wounded in the neck by a pistol shot. Berry was arrested.

BEN. WADE.

What he Thinks of Negro Suffrage, War of Races, Cause and Result of the Radical Defeat in Ohio, Etc.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial has visited and talked with Ben. Wade. From his report of what that gentleman said, we make the following extracts:

THE CAUSE OF THE DEFEAT IN OHIO.

I saluted the old gentleman, in the language of Artemus Ward, "How do you like it as far as you've got?" "It's the fate of war," said he; "we're d—d badly whipped, but it can't be helped. We must get ready for another round at e'm.

"The nigger whipped us," said Mr. Wade. "We went in on principle, and got whipped. We should have carried the State by a good majority if it hadn't been for the suffrage issue. Still, I am not sorry we made the issue. If it was to do over again, I'd be for putting it again, and I'll be for keeping it up until we do win, for by the eternal God, they can't beat us all the time on a question like that. I had no idea that there were so many Republicans in Ohio who were willing to see negro suffrage in the South, but wouldn't let the few negroes of Ohio vote. That's what got me. They all seemed to be in favor of it as a measure of reconstruction, just as much as I was. I didn't dream that they'd be mean enough to vote against it here."

In answer to a question as to whether he thought the greenback issue had anything to do with the defeat, Mr. Wade said he didn't think it had. It was nothing but the nigger. The greenback issue was no fairly before the people; for when you come to sift the matter, the Democratic speakers made very little of an issue on the greenbacks. The nigger was the only strong point they had, and they beat us on that, fair and square; but they'll have to keep on beating us, for we'll give them no peace till we beat them.

"Now," said Mr. Wade, "because we've been whipped on the first trial, I suppose some of the week-kneed brothers will be for backing out on that question. But I won't back a d—d inch. I'm for it now as strong as I was before the election, and stronger, too, because there is more need of being strong for it, to conquer a mean prejudice. But you'll see men trying to hush the thing up, and to smother and to dodge it in every way they can, and men who call themselves Radicals, too. Hell's full of such Radicals as we'll have now. I'm for it because I think it's right, and I know it's right; and, if a thing is right, the only way is to keep at it till it wins, for it's sure to win somehow or another. There is not a great reform in the history of the world that wasn't unpopular at first. And no one of them was ever carried by dropping it, and running like scared hounds from it, after it was been taken once. No, sir, no man permitted to the doctrine of universal suffrage, and no man is a Republican who would desert it now. But, although that's my belief, mark my word, there'll be the damn'dest crawfishing you ever saw from this time forward. Well, let them go. We can win without them; and we will win, too, just as sure as the Almighty is just and heaven above us. It will become hardest every year for the Copperheads to beat us on that issue, and they won't beat us very often, either; if we only make a bold front, and go at 'em with fixed bayonets every time."

NEGRO SUFFRAGE—WAR OF RACES.

"It is simply absurd to talk of making States without the negro vote in the South. You can't do it. You might as well let them secede at once, and set up for themselves, as to let the white rebels get control of everything down there, as they would do under Johnson's policy. We couldn't go back on the negroes if we would, and I wouldn't if I could. They talk about a war of races. It will never come unless the rebels bring it about; and if it does come let them fight it out between them, and let one drive the other out if they can. That's none of my business. As a Senator, I am bound to see that there is a republican government in these States. That's all I've got to do with it. If they can't agree among themselves, so much worse for the one that gets whipped—that's all. But we'll give them a republican form of government in spite of the devil and all his angels, including Andy Johnson."

WADE'S OPINION OF IMPEACHMENT.

On the subject of impeachment, Mr. Wade said he wished to be distinctly understood as expressing no opinion so far as Mr. Johnson's guilt or innocence was concerned. He would, however, answer my question as to whether the late elections would have any effect upon that matter. He thought they would. "You see," said he, "these weak-kneed brothers are taking the back-track already. Well, now, what the devil has an election in Ohio to do with the matter? If Andy Johnson is guilty, put him out; if not, acquit him; that's the way to do it. They ought to have pressed the investigation right along after they started it. And so they would have done last winter, if there hadn't been so many men in the Senate and House who wanted to keep on good terms with the White House. There were too many men from Ohio and from other States, who wanted their brothers and friends appointed to office, and knew that Andy was bidding high for votes. It was one of the most shameful spectacles in the history of this or any other country, to see men selling themselves and their constituents for office last winter. I wish the papers would take up every devil of 'em and go after 'em. That ain't careful. Some of them denied having made any chase to get these appointments, but I know it. I know that Andy was mighty particular to make his appointments to the best advantage, and he didn't give an office where it would'nt count. If it hadn't been for that infernal thing of office-seeking, the impeachment would have been settled last winter, as it ought to have been. I don't know whether Johnson should have been turned out or not, but the thing would have been determined, one way or the other."

WADE ON GRANT.

I asked Mr. Wade if he had ever conversed with General Grant on political topics.

"I have tried to do it," said he, "but I never could bring him out. When I saw the popular current appearing to run in his favor I thought I would like to know how he stood on the great question before us—whether he was for Johnson or Congress, or what the devil he was for; but I never could get any thing out of him. As quick as I'd talk politics he'd talk horses, and he could talk horses on that without getting tired. Well, horses are very good, but in these times a man must be all right on horses and all wrong on politics."

WHAT WADE SAYS OF JOHNSON.

Mr. Wade related the following about Andrew Johnson: "Three or four days after the assassination, Johnson sent for me, and I went to see him. He met me very cordially, shaking me with both hands, and said he was exceedingly glad to see me, and that there was no man in Washington whose advice he would as soon have as mine. I told him I was very glad and very proud of that. We sat down, and he said he wanted to hear my views on public questions and public policy. Well, said I, the first thing I've got to say to you is, I warned by the fate of all Vice Presidents who have been in your position. Look at Tyler and Fillmore, and pray to God every night to save you from their fate. Johnson seemed astonished to think that I had any apprehensions of that kind; but I told him he couldn't be too careful, for that he certainly would be tempted as they were. He said I need have no fears; that he meant to stand by the men and the party that elected him. I then went on to advise him what to do. I told him the first thing to do was to order the trial of a few of the leaders of the rebellion, before a military commission, and to hang them when found guilty. He said he would do that very thing, and would commence with Jeff. Davis. He told me to hunt up the law on the question, and I agreed to do it if he would name some one to help me. He named Ben. Butler. Butler and I called on him a day or two after to find exactly what he wanted, and we had a long talk with him. He told us he meant to hang the leaders of the rebellion right away, and wanted to see if they could be tried and convicted by a military commission. As we went away Ben. Butler said he was delighted with Johnson; that he seemed to be a regular trump. We looked up the law of the case, and in a few days I called on him again. I talked to him about this very question of reconstruction. He said he was very glad that it was a matter with which he had nothing to do; that it belonged to Congress exclusively, and he should let Congress take care of it. We parted, and soon after I went home, with the assurance from him that he would take no step not sanctioned by the leaders of the Republican party. I heard nothing from him until about two months later, when I met John Covode at a hotel in Cleveland, and learned that the President had been in close communion with Copperheads and rebels, and he said to Covode that he (Johnson) could do without the Radicals better than the Radicals could do without him. About a month after I went to Washington for the winter, and I called at the White House. I found the anti-room full of rebels and Copperheads, and I was soon convinced, from the style in which I was received, that Johnson had found friends and advisers outside of the Republican party. I knew then that he had started on the down-ward track, and made up his mind to betray the party, and the country, too, if he could. I tried my best to keep him in, but it was no go."

The quality of California wheat is unequaled. During the growth of the kernel no rain, not even a dew, moistens it. It can be transported around the globe without injury. In England its use is fast becoming a necessity. Mixed, half and half, with the damp, turgid wheat of the British isles, it furnishes a bread greatly superior to the heavy, unpalatable loaves made of purely English grain.

An exchange says: "It is believed at Washington the President will lay before the Cabinet the arbitrary action of General Pope in keeping open the election in Georgia beyond the time designated in the original notice. This is regarded as a clear violation of the law, and it is likely the matter will be investigated."

The remains of Aaron Burr rest in a cemetery at Princeton, New Jersey. The spot is marked by a plain, white marble monument. In the family of Judge Edwards, at Staten Island, there are the portraits of Aaron Burr and his daughter, rare gems of art, and painted by the celebrated Vanderlyn.

A scientific writer in the North British Review says that the appearance of new stars and the disappearance of others, together with divers other extraordinary phenomena, are "foreshadows of that impending convulsion to which the system of the world is doomed."

A New Era in Literature.

MR. FRANK LESLIE, one of the United States Commissioners to the Universal Exposition in Paris, has availed himself of his visit abroad to introduce some new and very interesting features in his pictorial publications. He has arranged with a number of the leading authors and artists of Europe to furnish NOVELS, NARRATIVES, and SKETCHES, which will appear EXCLUSIVELY in his publications, instead of secondhand matter, or that which has appeared in other forms. Advance sheets, duly protected by securing the copyright question by purchasing his literary material at first hand. This is a bold movement, and will prove to be a remunerative one, since "Mosesty is not the only virtue which is rewarded" at this time is

Adventures Among the Brigands,

BY PIERCE EGAN, ESQ.

A narrative of Adventure in Italy, by that popular novelist and fascinating writer, which will commence in No. 128 of FRANK LESLIE'S CHIMNEY CORNER.

With No. 128 will also be issued a new and Brilliant Original Engraving,

Stop Thief! or, the Monkey's Grip!

From the famous and popular painting of that name in the Paris Exposition, now the property of Patan Stevens, Esq., of New York.
